Tax Accountability, Political Arm of National Taxpayers United of Illinois, Endorses Jeff Tobolski for Cook County Commissioner

“My opponent in the race, Tony Peraica has voted with Todd Stroger for over 14 different tax and fee increases.” - Jeff Tobolski

La Grange, IL –Amidst Cook County’s double digit unemployment rate and staggeringly high sales tax, Tax Accountability, the political arm of the National Taxpayers United of Illinois, has endorsed Jeff Tobolski over Tony Peraica in the race for Cook County Commissioner.

“In recognition of his exceptional desire to fight taxes and support economic growth, Tax Accountability endorses Jeff Tobolski for the November 2nd election,” said Jim Tobin, President of Tax Accountability, in a letter sent to the campaign.

“I’m proud to have received Tax Accountability’s endorsement. National Taxpayers United of Illinois is the largest taxpayer protection organization in the state and fights tirelessly to provide working families and businesses tax relief to foster economic growth. My opponent in the race, Tony Peraica has voted with Todd Stroger for over 14 different tax and fee increases. These are the same taxes and fees that are crippling small businesses, and causing them to flee Cook County. I stand by my pledge to oppose any and all tax increases,” said Tobolski.

Since Jeff Tobolski became Mayor he has created hundreds of jobs by finding creative ways to bring businesses into McCook. Driving through McCook Business Center one notices brand new industrial buildings like Burke Beverage, McCook Cold Storage, and Capitol Wholesale Meats. In a time when businesses are fleeing Cook County by droves, Jeff Tobolski has created hundreds of new jobs right here in McCook.
